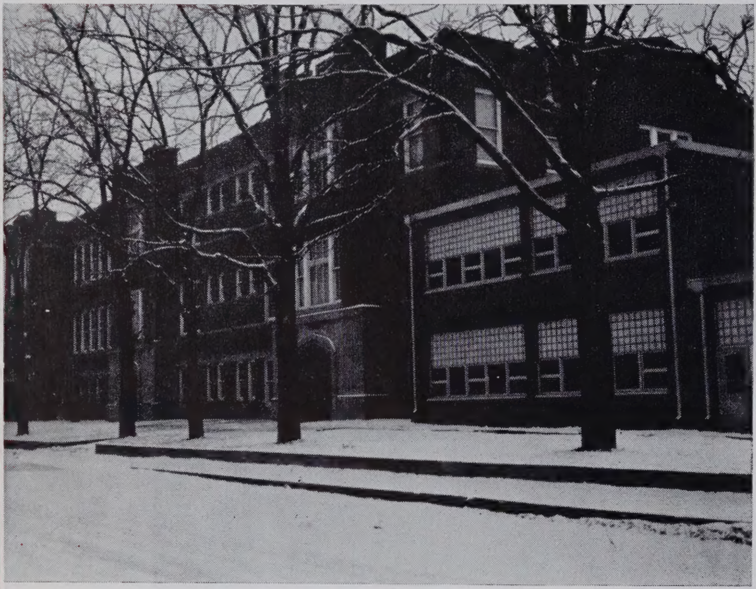
September brought school, crisp nights, and the Fair.

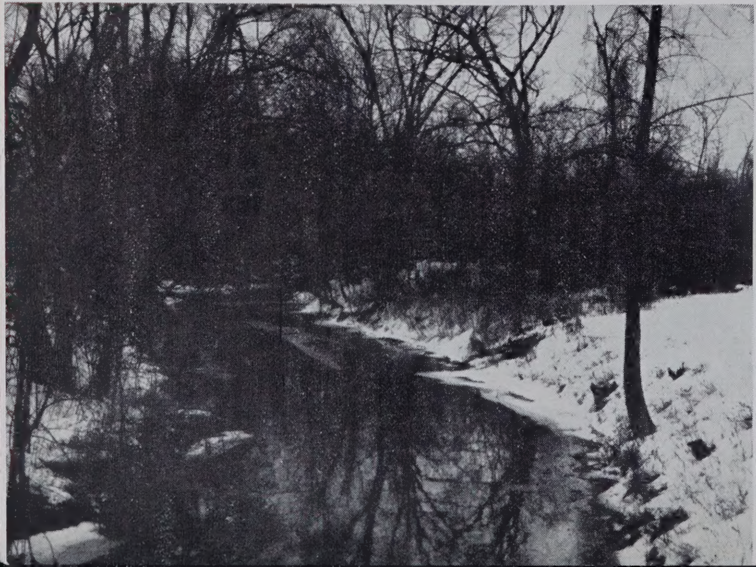
Sparks of fire and enthusiasm sear the October night.



The afternoon tranquility compliments a January snow.

AN EVENTFUL YEAR

March put an end to the bitterness of winter.



April showers were only a mild inconvenience.

Tradition flourishes in the briskness of November.

The spirit of December somehow never diminished.

UNFOLDS BEFORE US

February activities were eclipsed by (ugh) term papers!

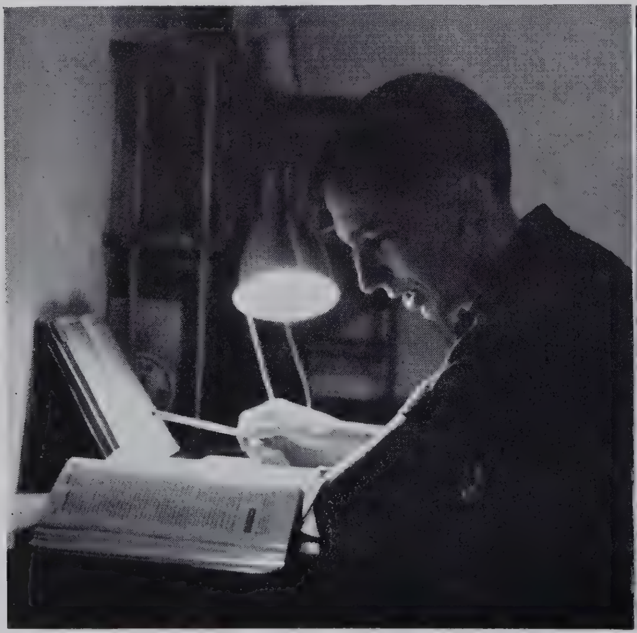
May was filled with saddening thoughts of graduation.

June and a well-earned vacation go very well together.

Who says brains and beauty are never combined? Here's our lineup of seven charming secretarial exceptions. Shari Dice, Kay Davidson, Connie Tuttle, Susie Kimble, Diane Heffley, Elin Graham, and Nancy Farr took advantage of many opportunities to serve us during the past year. We will always remember their cheerfulness and efficiency.

THESE FAMILIAR SCENES THAT WE TOOK SO MUCH FOR

Late hours + studies = boredom. This may explain Larry's valiant efforts to stifle that yawn. Black coffee, anyone?



The Loyalists and the Young Americans have both been vying for Cathy Walsh's vote, but only she knows for sure . . . .

When we look back nostagically on our years at Auurn High School, will we remember all of the solemn nd scholarly activities that the student is inclined to reard as important? Or will we remember the commonlace things, the routine things, the everyday things bout which we were too wise to become sentimental? . . . The noisy enthusiasm and contagious spirit of ur ball games . . . the way we strove to make the raftrs ring at our pep sessions . . . the anxious hours of tudy we spent preparing for that test that really was ot so bad after all . . . the relaxing hours that we deoted to reading and perhaps just to dreaming by the ireplace in the library . . . the smile and the friendly hello" that the student secretaries always had for us n blue Mondays . . . the little thrill of fear that we alays felt in spite of ourselves whenever our name was mong those called to ". . . report to the office immeiately after announcements . . . ."

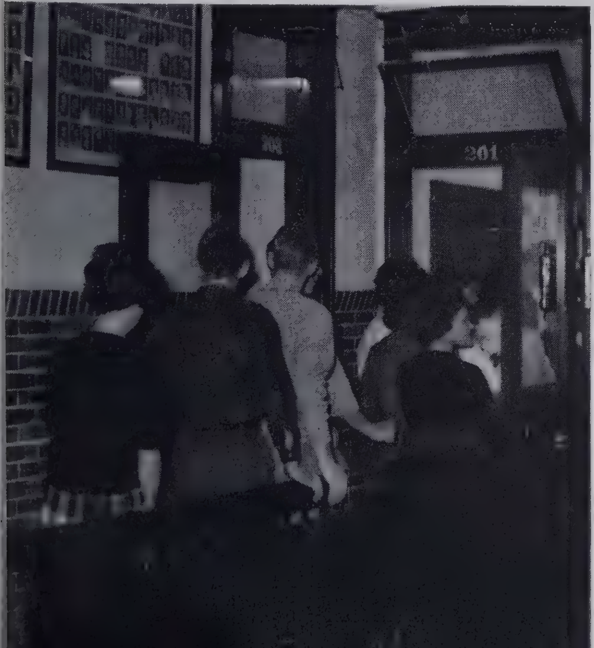
"Familiarities" — surely no other word could decribe these scenes more perfectly. Because we were part of them so often, these activities seemed to have ttle significance—these were the things that were just oo commonplace to be important. It is only now that e realize how much we shall miss them all. The memries that they have afforded us will last forever.

The library grounds possess a restful atmosphere that lightens the burden of study. The fountain, with its refreshing tranquility, never lost its fascination for us.

GRANTED ARE NOW AN UNFORGETTABLE PART OF US.

sk any bus driver: Are the Red Devils more spirited n the bus or on the field? Whoever drove this bus sn't telling.

Vhich of us hasn't been a part of the "morning neup"?



A football rally provides these fair ladies with a golden opportunity to rid themselves of their inhibitions.

MELONY SOUDER IS CROWNED QUEEN OF A.H.S.;

Last September twenty-first, we enjoyed the first of our assembly programs — the Auburn High School Queen Competition. This program was the most important one of the year, for from the competition would emerge the young lady who would represent Auburn in the DeKalb County Queen Contest.

Participating were Melony Souder, Diane Walter, and Susie Kimble, a newcomer to A.H.S. When each of the candidates had made her own highly entertaining bid for the coveted position, the student body was in a quandry: Which candidate should be chosen?

After the ballots were counted, Melony was declared the winner; and she proudly represented Auburn as an attendant in the court of Her Majesty, Miss DeKalb County.

Melony Souder and her charm, the Speech Club and its plays and skits, Chuck Naidl and his slithery friends made this year's assembly programs unforgettable!

Smiling confidently, Melony Souder prepares to display her wealth of talent to all of DeKalb County. She did not disappoint our hopes for her success.

Our "cheerleaders" represent the height of beauty (?).

None of us were boa-ed by Chuck Naidl's program.

ASSEMBLIES PROVIDE WELCOME DIVERTISSEMENT

We were amused by Art Garceau and Phil Emerson, who portrayed two young vagabonds in the Thanksgiving Play.

As a sideline, Mr. Showalter enjoys — er — "playing" the banjo, and occasionally he even, uh — "sings?" Maybe you'd better stick to coaching, coach!

Our queen receives her crown — and the acclaim of her subjects. But who's that muddy guard standing in the way?

Karen and Glen pause to glance at the camera, but most of the time they were too busily dancing to pose for us.

SCINTILLATING SOCIAL EVENTS DRAMATICALLY

Long live the queen! Her Majesty Kathie Miller and her court prove that A.H.S. has a wealth of charm and beauty.

Kathie concluded her three-year career as royal attendant by being crowned queen. No one deserved it more than she!

Auburn High was filled with enthusiastic students when our school year began on September fifth. This initial enthusiasm soon changed to boredom, however; and we were all glad to take a break from the tedious schedule by the eleventh of October—Homecoming Day.

A welcome relief was provided for us in the excitement of our annual Homecoming festivities. We saw Auburn score an easy victory over Berne; then we were thrilled by the pageantry of our Queen's coronation. Kathie Miller reigned in splendor with Janet Metcalf, Sherri Dice, Mary Lou Proksa, Vicky Moore, and Carolyn Gray. The round of dazzling events was brilliantly culminated by the Homecoming Dance, which had as its theme, aptly enough, "Autumn Leaves."

Our next chance to use our best manners and wear our best clothes came with the holidays when we attended our Christmas Formal on December 28. Undaunted by the severity of Old Man Winter, the stylish couples danced the night away in a seasonable "Winter Wonderland."

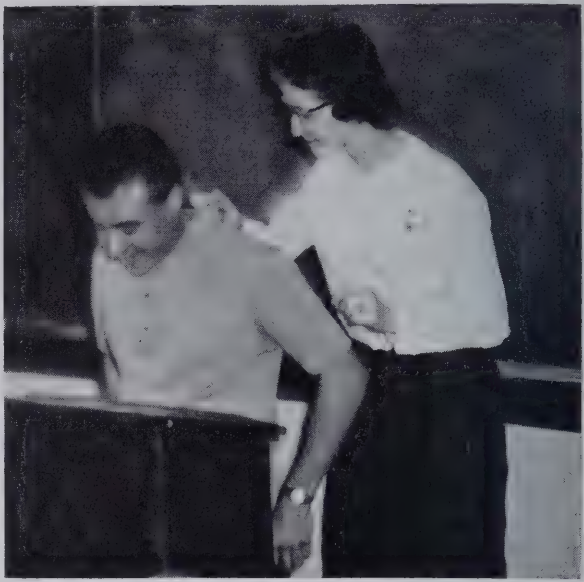
Jonnie Marie Bullock and James Wesley Long are quite enchanted by the Christmas Formal. Translation: Jonnie and Jim are having a swingin' time at the Cool Yule Hop!

HIGHLIGHT THE 1962-1963 SEASON

Mike Timberlin is wondering why Sherri Davis is neglecting him — but she will be back in his arms when she gets the cold shoulder from Frosty.

NEW LANGUAGE FACILITIES ENHANCE OUR LEARNING CAPACITY

Here a pseudo-Shakespearian audience watches a pseudo-Shakespearian play amid much genuine enthusiasm.

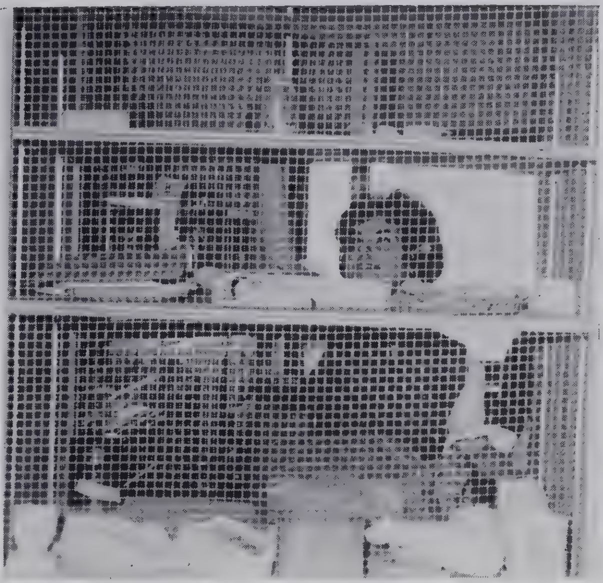


Heckling speeches were very amusing — unless YOU were the one being heckled. "Hmm . . . collar, size 15½ . . . ."

Our high school's language department, always a progressive one, is one of the most modern in the state, due to the recent installation of a complete language laboratory. Here, Mr. Love demonstrates its proper use.

INTEREST IN THE ARTS FLOURISHES AT A.H.S.

"A thing of beauty is a joy forever . . ." Cheer up, O somber ones; joy and beauty aren't everything, you know.



Roberta Stackhouse r-r-r-reaches up to get her art project . . . if only Wilt Chamberlain were here!

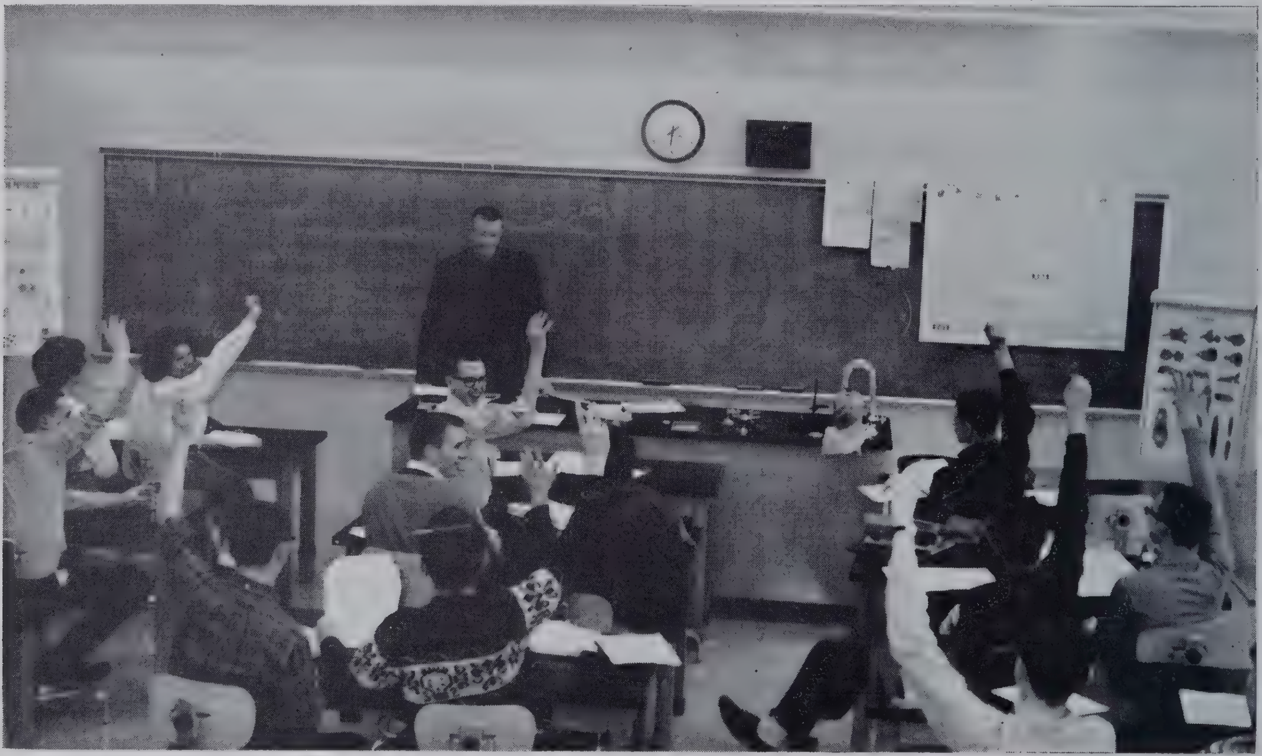
Pictured looking over new choral arrangements is the Girls' Ensemble. Standing are B. Schuette, P. Proksa, M. Proksa, S. Rediger, and C. Bauman; seated are J. Storey, K. Doyle, M. Hess, T. Hay, and S. Wirts.

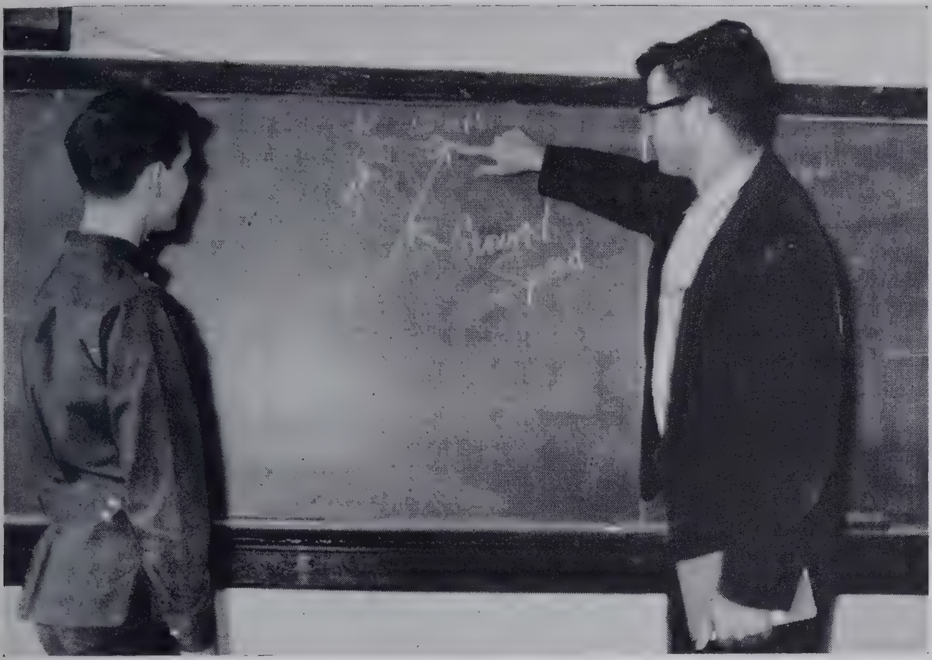
". . . and what's the mechanical advantage, boys?" Apparently this group sees no advantages at all in physics.

Sally Warren watches breathlessly as Nancy George (also breathless) performs the limewater-CO_2 indicator test.

SCIENCE AND MATHEMATICS STUDENTS WILL

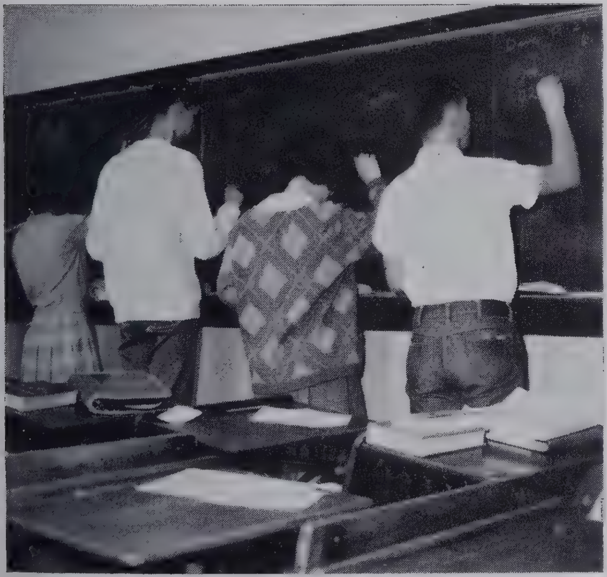
The advanced biology class had advanced equipment, advanced instruction—everything but an advanced clock.





Eric Buttermore, a devout disciple of Euclid, listens attentively to the Master Geometrician, Mr. Furber.

PRESERVE AMERICA'S SCIENTIFIC LEADERSHIP



The hours spent solving an algebra problem are rewarded when the correct answer is finally put on the board.

Mr. Thrasher seems satisfied with Larry's math paper.

VOCATIONAL TRAINING CREATES USEFUL

These hopeful typists will soon be able to avoid typing "Dead Sir" on their letters.

Gary Nodine, vexed by the perfidy of his wicked adding machine, finds sympathy with Red Kessler and Mellody Harris.

CITIZENS FOR A BETTER TOMORROW

Some say that sewing is drudgery, but Frances Wyne makes it look as if it might even be fun.

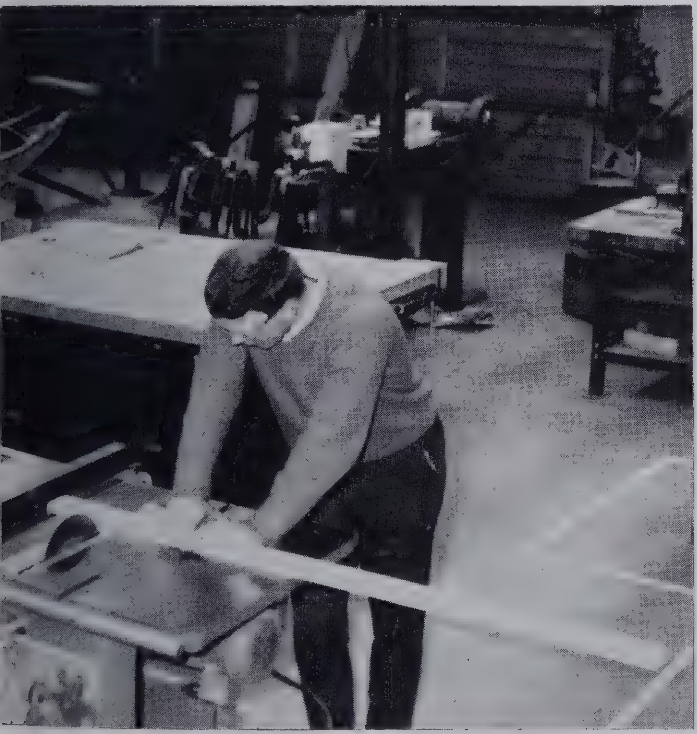
Vocational training courses occupy a prominent part in the curriculum at Auburn High School. Because of the exceptionally high standards and the excellent teaching methods that are employed throughout each course, many vocational students are able to embark on a successful career immediately upon graduating.

Secretarial and clerical students, having the most modern equipment at their disposal, are able to prepare themselves very suitably for any position that may require a knowledge of shorthand, bookkeeping, or typing.

Manual training students, also provided with the finest modern equipment, learn the most efficient methods in drafting and wood or metal-working.

Home economics students, by studying the many diversified subjects that are of interest to the modern woman, learn how to manage a successful household.

Shop students gain mechanical experience and achieve satisfaction from their completed projects.



Linda Dixon, Jerry Akers, and Barb Armstrong are putting their knowledge of basic homemaking skills to good use.

ELECTIVES BALANCE OUT OUR COURSES

Here are four talented members of Miss Riggs's unique inverted ballet class. Executing this incomparably graceful pas de deux are Mlles. Karen Close, Beryl Jeakle, Sue Jones, Virginia Coffin, and (oops!) Janet McInturf.

The classroom routine of our regular subjects was broken by the casual atmosphere of physical education classes. Miss Riggs had charge of the girls' classes, while Mr. Platt and Mr. Showalter were the boys' instructors. The feminine program included such sports as: softball, volleyball, tumbling, basketball, calisthenics, dodge ball, and trampoline. The boys participated in similar activities along with wrestling and baseball.

Drivers' education, taught by Mr. Platt and Mr. Showalter, was confined to the classroom during the winter months although the students received driving experience in the summer.

"Intake—compression—ignition—exhaust . . ." Mr. Showalter tries to explain the enigma of the infernal—er, internal combustion engine to Wilma Wells and Brad Rogers.

School, although it is primarily a place of learning, would nonetheless be very dull if studies alone occupied the time that you devoted to it. Thus it is, and wisely so, that you look for something more with which to complement your studies and to occupy your spare time. These are the things that refresh you, that teach you to live and work with others, that give you a satisfying sense of accomplishment: these are . . .

Your Activities.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY SALUTES SCHOLARS;

To qualify scholastically for the Auburn Chapter of the National Honor Society of Secondary Schools, a student must have a scholarship level, beginning with his freshman year, of no semester grade below a "B" on a cumulative average of 3.15 with no grade below a "C."

In addition, a candidate is judged on his leadership, character, and service.

Fourteen new members were inducted into the Auburn chapter in a ceremony held before the student body. They were K. Davidson, N. Farr, H. Hanes, R. Klock, J. Meschberger, K. Miller, S. Olson, S. Smith, and M. Smith, seniors; and K. Hahn, K. Lange, C. Osmun, and R. Raub, juniors. The induction ceremony was written and given by the eight charter members.

The solemnity of the National Honor Society induction ceremony is reflected in the expressions of Cathie Osmun, Becky Raub, and Bill Rogers.

STUDENT COUNCIL LEGISLATES ELECTION PROCEDURES

"Action" was the password of the Student Council this year. The Council passed long-awaited legislation regarding class and club election procedures. Among the reforms were self-nomination and the supervision of all club elections by the Student Council President. Standards were set up for the position of Student Council President, and a board was formed to screen the candidates on their other qualifications. The Council did its part in backing the athletic teams by covering the school walls with inspiring posters, providing the programs for the basketball games, and sponsoring the freshman basketball tourney. A school news column was published in the local newspaper. The Council accepted the responsibility of supervising the raising and lowering of the school flag. Teams of students volunteered and were trained for the job.

Sue Kingsbury, Becky Raub, Margaret Smith, and Dianne Garavaglia keep busy by creating school spirit.

NAPOLEON'S REIGN ENDED BY

The Auburn Red Devil Band succeeded in out-marching and out-playing the Napoleon Band at the DeKalb County Free Fall Fair, thus receiving a first place. Also, in the fall, the band presented half-time shows at all home football games. These programs consisted of precision drills and unique formations. The band's capable director, Mr. Richard Norris, again led the Devils to a second at Marching Contest. At the home basketball games the band was on hand to add spirit by playing marches and popular tunes. The music, coupled with the excellent twirling of the majorettes, gave the fans many enjoyable half-time shows. J. Bullock served as drum majorette with D. Wallace and W. Pearse as feature twirlers. The band's concert season consisted of several outstanding performances before the student body, band parents, and the general public. In addition to performing as a group at the N.I.S.B.O.V.A. contest, members of the band received many high ratings in solo and ensemble work. Mr. Norris, along with the band council, made the 1962-63 year a success for the Auburn Band.

CHORUS HAS MOST SUCCESSFUL YEAR EVER

The A.H.S. Chorus, under its new vocal director, Mrs. Anne Ditmars, nearly doubled in size over the previous year's group. Having its most successful season, the chorus presented many enjoyable programs for the student body and also had numerous outside engagements. For the first time in its history, the choir attended the N.I.S.B.O.V.A. Contest as a group. Several members of the chorus also entered this contest as soloists and in ensembles. Some of the highlights of the season included such popular songs as "Moon River," "Let There Be Music," and "Tonight." These songs and other selections were well received by the general public and gave the 1962-63 chorus many memorable moments.

J. Storey plays as J. Memering, L. Sanxter, J. Leeke, and R. Diehm sing a number for the boys' quartet.

PEP CLUB AND LETTERMEN DISPLAY SPIRIT

The Pep Club was undoubtedly one of the most successful organizations this year. The club, always representing the school in a manner befitting the best, seemed to have the power to raise the boys' spirits just when they needed it most. A feature of one of the special pep sessions was an "Auburn-Garrett" tricycle race which, of course, the Auburn senior racers won. The club entertained basketball crowds with intricate half-time shows.

The many new members of the Lettermen's Club indicated a rise in athletic participation. At Christmas, the Red Devil lettermen assisted the Auburn Fire Department in delivering food to the needy of DeKalb County.

YOUNG SCIENTISTS EXPLORE NEW HORIZONS

The Science Club placed itself solidly behind the science fairs by encouraging all members to enter projects. Several members responded to this encouragement and entered many different and intriguing exhibits. The Science Club also made many trips. They visited Cooper Tire Company in Auburn, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration exhibit at Tri-State College, and went on the annual biology trip.

The meetings consisted on demonstrations of an ocilloscope, an electronic brain, and other interesting pieces of scientific equipment; chemistry experiments; and interesting discussions. Science Club members gained many glances into the realm of science today.

Jerry Cripe and Edward Kaiser, two members of the Science Club, are undertaking challenging experiments. The new biology laboratory provides a perfect workshop for the future scientists of tomorrow.

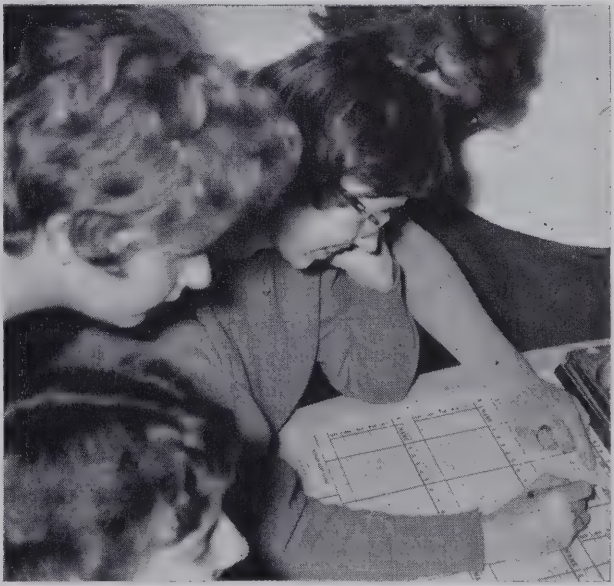
G. A. A. UNDERTAKES VARIETY OF SPORTS

The Girls' Athletic Association is a club for girls who have an interest in recreational sports and games. The main objective of the club is to teach girls sportsmanship and help them develop their physical abilities.

The girls participated in such sports as basketball volleyball, softball, archery, swimming, bowling, tumbling, and tennis.

Playing softball games with Leo, participating in Waterloo's volleyball tourney, sponsoring the annual G.A.A. record hop, and winning a trophy in a bowling tournament with Butler were the main events of the year.

As a reward for their achievements throughout the year, the members received awards of letters, pins, and blazers which were given at the annual Awards Night.



Making sure their bowling scores were averaged correctly is the main interest of these G.A.A.-ers.

CHALLENGE THE FUTURE

"I don't know what I want to do after graduation." Does this problem sound familiar? It should. For surely, at one time or another, every student has made this statement. The vocational clubs' purposes are to help students make this all-important decision.

The Future Homemakers have moved "Toward New Horizons" by participating in worth-while service projects.

By farming a 30-acre plot of land, the Future Farmers gained valuable first-hand experience in agricultural production and farm management.

The F.T.A. members study as cadet teachers to see what it is like to be "Prime Minister of the Classroom." Experience and hard work have taught them the necessary qualifications for good teachers.

Tractors, wagons, corn pickers, and hard work are all a part of John Wallace's duties as an F.F.A. member.

FUTURE TEACHERS: Bottom Row: K. McComas, K. Miller (Sec.), D. Miller (Treas.), L. Lemper (V-Pres.), Mrs. Voss, T. Goodwin (Pres.), G. Jeakle, V. Coffin, M. Smith, P. Proksa. Row 2: L. ORIGINALITY AND EXCE

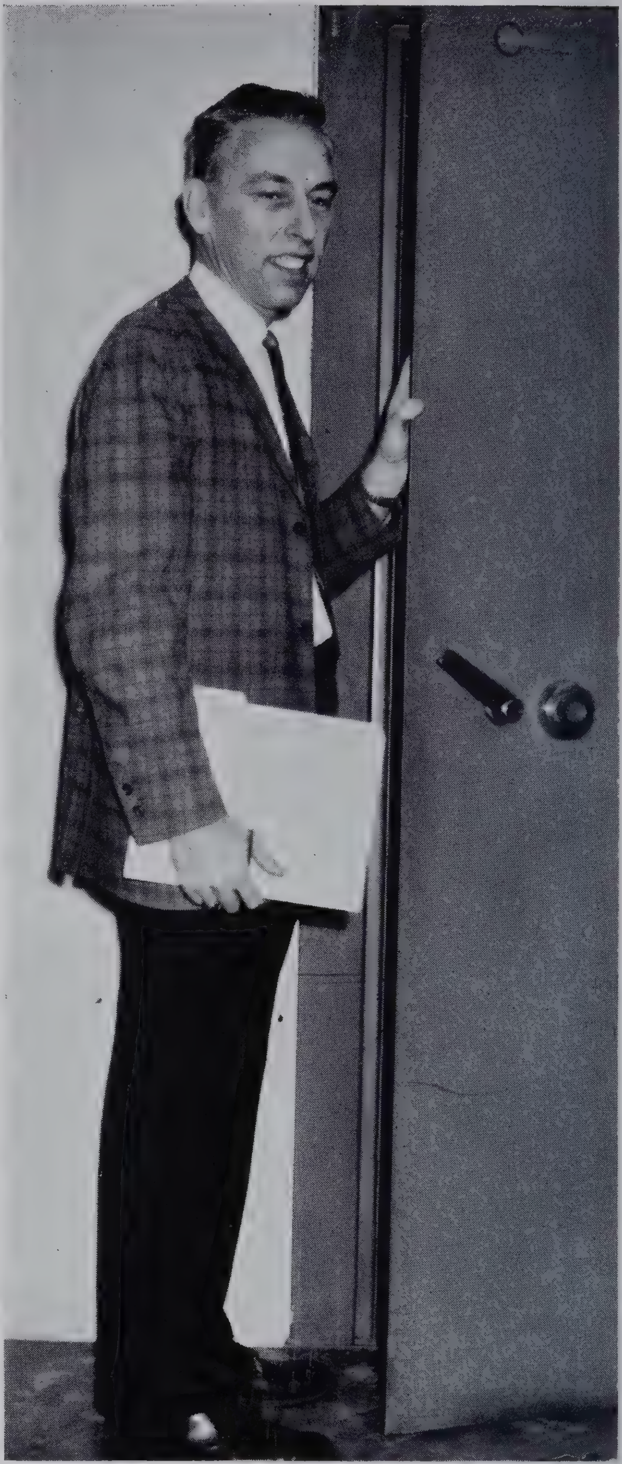
It is a natural tendency of man's to seek out the good and the beautiful. For this reason, man surrounds himself with companions of his own choosing, and he strives to perfect himself by imitating the good and beautiful qualities that he sees exemplified in them. You, too, undoubtedly enjoy the company of those whom you admire, and you rely upon their constancy throughout your life — in your success or defeat, in your delight or despair. Your school life is centered around . . .

You and Your Friends.

A.H.S. BENEFITS FROM CAPABLE ADMINISTRATION

We are proud to have Mr. Cale Hudson as our new superintendent. In the short time he has been with us, he has worked diligently to improve our ever-growing school system. Hats off to him for a job well done!



Mr. Meredith Thompson has done a very commendable job as our principal for the past three years. His willingness to help others is only one of the numerous reasons he is well-liked by us all.

SECRETARIES KEEP ADMINISTRATIVE MACHINERY RUNNING SMOOTHLY

The efficient work of Mrs. Carma-Jean Eckert, Mr. Hudson's financial secretary, is invaluable.

What would we do without Mrs. Hughes! Her patience and smile have saved our days many times.

Harold Link, Marie Blevins, and Melvin Surfus were those who kept our school spic and span this past year. We are grateful to them for all of the long hours they toiled to make A.H.S. the clean place it is.

This year the Junior Class was responsible for the sale of refreshments at the home basketball games. Members of the Junior Class worked during the games selling refreshments in order to earn money for the Junior-Senior Banquet and to "work off" part of their class dues. Pictured at the right are Melvin Smith, Kenneth Lange, and Mr. Steven Fischer, Junior Class co-sponsor, working at the refreshment stand during the half-time of one of the basketball games. In addition to selling refreshments at the refreshment stand, the juniors also sold refreshments in the stands during the half-times and between games.

The thrill of competition is experienced in many phases of scholastic life. It is felt by the student who strives for academic excellence, but even more keenly it is felt by the athletic competitor. The competitive spirit thrives among skillful athletes, and it inspires them to even greater accomplishments. And you, too, even though you may not be active in these athletic contests, nonetheless are thrilled by the impact of their fierce competition. These are . . .

Your Sports.

Jim Long led N.E.I.-A.C. scoring with 60 points in conference games and 108 points in all games. Doug Cochard raced up 30 points during the season. Conference honors were as follows: J. Long, first team; A. Garceau and S. Thomas, third team; and D. Cochard, G. Jeakle, R. Myers, G. Cochard, and J. DeWitt, honorable mention. J. Long received honorable mention.

Although heavily laden with work, Managers Steve Olson and Alan Yoder always had time to help the players.

The Auburn Red Devils gave a good showing at the annual pre-season Jamboree when they played Kendallville and Angola at Garrett. Auburn won over Kendallville 6-0 by Jim Long's off-tackle slant. The battered Red Devils then took on the Angola Hornets and held them scoreless. The quarter ended in a 0-0 tie.

The Auburn Red Devils won a thriller from the Decatur Yellow Jackets 12-9. After Long skirted left end in the third quarter for his second score, Decatur fought back but was stopped by Tom Goodwin's game-saving tackle on Auburn's eleven. DeWitt, Jeakle, and Fayler bolstered Auburn's successful goal line stand on Decatur's next set of downs. Then Auburn allowed a safety and kicked the ball out of danger.

Auburn next traveled to Bluffton to tromp the Tigers 33-14. Auburn first stunned the Tigers by two touchdowns, Doug Cochard romping 31 yards and Jim Long scoring via a 70-yard punt return. Long then dashed for two more T.D.'s and Kim Gaskill scored on a two-yard plunge.

Auburn hosted Angola next and won 14-13. Although the Hornets led in statistics, Auburn led in scoring. Angola scored first as a result of an Auburn fumble. Auburn then started rolling and Jim Long score twice. Hanes' conversions were the deciding factor.

Auburn then routed Concord Township of Elkhart 32-0. In the second quarter Auburn started to click and scored 19 points. All thirty-three men on Auburn's traveling squad played. The touchdowns were scored by Jim Long, Tom Goodwin, Doug Cochard, Gary Cochard, and Bill Bailey.

Next Auburn nosed out Kendallville 21-19. Gary Cochard scored on a 55-yard run; then Doug Cochard passed to Mike Myers for the second Auburn 6-pointer. Long then smashed over from the two yard line. Kendallville scored twice in the fourth quarter to add even more excitement to a thrilling game.

S. Lewis, D. Cochard, J. Long, G. Jeakle, H. Hanes and A. Garceau enjoy riding on the fire truck during pep rally before the Garrett game.

During the successful Homecoming game, Auburn back, Doug Cochard, speeds around right end for 50 yards and 6 of Auburn's 32 points against the Berne Bears.

FANS SEE MANY THRILLERS

Jim Long again disrupts the Garrett defense as he charges around left end for another gain.

Art Garceau and Dave Kruse charge out of the field house with the rest of the mighty Red Devils to meet the Angola Hornets.

The Red Devils fought a hard, determined game against Washington-Clay but received their only defeat of the season 32-14. Auburn's offensive line of Myers, Garceau, Jeakle, DeWitt and Hanes, although outweighed 18 pounds per man, played almost equal to the Colonials' "big city," toughened line. The highlights of the game were Long's amazing 84-yard run from scrimmage and 85-yard kickoff return for Auburn's two touchdowns.

In the annual Homecoming game, Auburn beat the Berne Bears 32-12. Dashes of 61 yards by Long and 50 yards by Doug Cochard added interest to an easy victory. The managers, Steve Olson and Al Yoder, were given showers after the game.

The Devils fought the Wabash Apaches to a 21-21 tie next. Because of the concrete hardness of the field, three Auburn backs were sidelined with muscle cramps. Jim Moore intercepted a pass and Doug Cochard then plunged over to score. In the third quarter Doug Cochard scored again, and later Long sprinted into the end zone.

The Mighty Red Devils then traveled to rival Garrett for the traditional game. Auburn tied the Railroaders with 28 seconds left when Dave Kruse tallied on a pass from Long to make the final score read 19-19. Jim Long dominated the contest by racking up 200 yards rushing, scoring two of Auburn's touchdowns.

FUTURE RED DEVILS HAVE TRYING SEASON

Coaches Dalen Showalter, Robert Voelkel, and Jack Wagner led their 1962 "B" team football squad through a perplexing season to a 2-4-0 record.

The team began their season by traveling to Angola where they were vanquished by a close margin of 12 to 7. Their next opponents, Kendallville and Garrett, also held sway over the Imps by narrow margins of 7 to 6 and 20 to 13.

However, these experiences and hard work brought a victory in a return game with Angola. Next, though, their "streak" was halted by Kendallville in another close defeat, 26-20.

The troublesome season closed with the Auburn squad winning over Columbia City in a decisive victory, 34 to 0.

At the close of the 1962 season, each member of the team felt that through his trials and practices will come the future "Red Devil" football team of A.H.S.

The fighting Red Devils of 1962-63, coached by Dalen Showalter, ran up a total of fifteen wins against eight losses. Last year's record was twelve wins and ten losses.

In starting the season against Avilla, the Red Devils scored an impressive 74-52 victory. Jack Shafer proved to be Avilla's nemisis by scoring 16 of Auburn's final 18 points of the game, making his individual score a total of 31 points.

Columbia City was next to meet the fast Auburn five. The taller Eagles walked away with a victory, but only by three points, 78-75. Shafer led the scoring with 32, and Terry Habig contributed 21 points.

Auburn ran against the percentage wall in the Huntertown game. The hot-shooting Wildcats hit 47% of their shots and won, 72-68. Habig poured in 28 points for the Red Devils.

The Red Devils started a six-game winning streak by first defeating Portland 88-55. Shafer, Habig. Long, and Lumm shot their way into the double figure scoring column.

The other teams to fall during the Red Devils' longest winning streak were Butler, 94-78; Garrett, 75-50; Churubusco, 87-66; Kendallville, 74-64; and Muncie South, 84-80. In all of these games, four of Auburn's starting five received double-figure honors. In the game with Butler, Auburn's scoring percentage was 51%. The most impressive part of the Garrett game was Auburn's teamwork. At the end of the Churubusco game, Auburn's game average was 80 points. The Auburn boys proved to be a good, all-around team by scoring 22 out of 27 free throws at the Kendallville game.

In the Huntington Tourney, the Auburn Red Devils scored an impressive, thrilling victory over the much bigger Muncie South team, 84-80. In the championship game, Auburn met a taller Huntington team and lost 62-83. By scoring 34 points in the first game and 25 in the second, Jack Shafer captured the individual scoring honors with 59 but fell one short of the Tourney record.

Auburn lost their next two regular season games to Angola, 56-62, and to Berne, 60-65, in a weekend double-header. The Angola score was a duplicate of last year's game. The top scorer was Habig with 21 points. Top scorers in the Berne game were Shafer with 20 points and Doug Cochard with 17 points.

Auburn steadied and then roared back to win easily over the Decatur Yellow Jackets, 73-46. Auburn's score, by quarters, was 13-24-13-23, and Decatur's was 9-14-9-14.

The hot Red Devils tackled the big Concordia Cadets next but lost 72-79 in an overtime game. Habig and Lumm led the Auburn scoring with 23 and 15 points, respectively.

The fired-up Red Devils scored a 68-49 victory over Leo. Habig, Shafer, and Long shared scoring honors. Leo assumed a quick 6-point lead, but Auburn regained the lead at the half by one point.

In an exciting game, the high-light of the season, Auburn topped Bluffton 59-58. The Red Devils managed to keep Bluffton's "big gun" under control while Doug Cochard, Shafer, and Habig accounted for 12 points each. Jim Moore climaxed an exciting game by scoring two points as the last second of the game ticked away.

After an easy victory over Adams Central, 74-39, the fighting Red Devils met the New Haven Bulldogs. The Devils scored only ten field goals and lost the game by a score of 42-50.

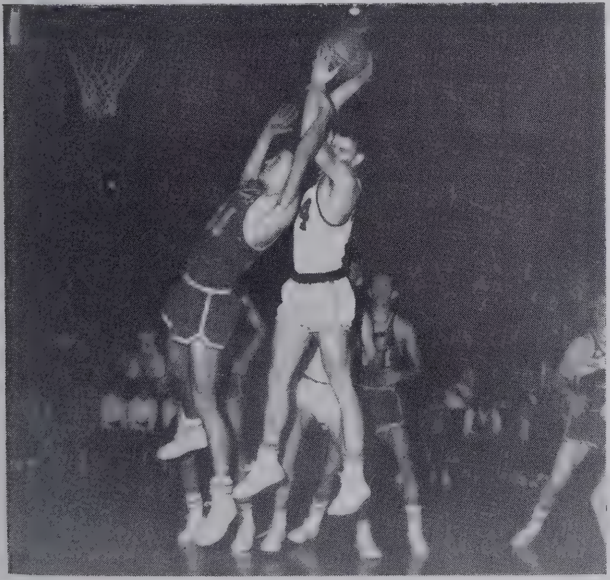
A fast, determined Albion team came to Auburn and fought a thrilling contest. The 83-77 victory for Auburn does not accurately tell of the excitement.

In the last game of the regular season, the Devils marked their thirteenth win by a 76-60 margin over Ossian. Habig, Doug Cochard, and Gary Cochard took the scoring honors in this game.

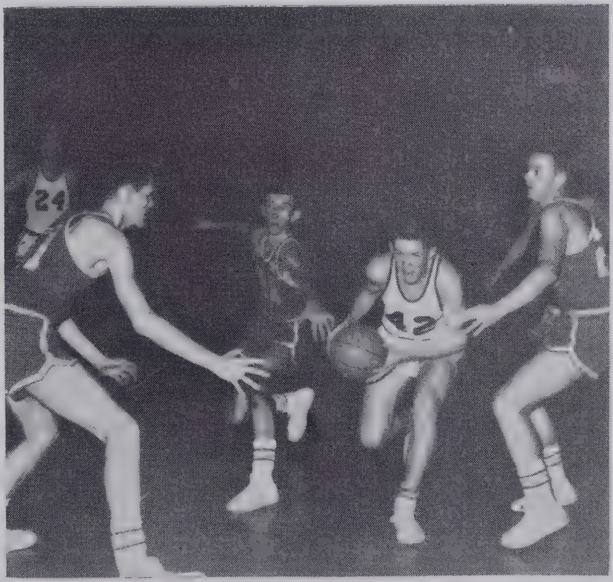
Auburn drew Fremont to start the Angola-Churubusco Sectional Tourney and won, 50-41. Churubusco was the next victim of the fast-breaking, quick-rebounding Red Devils with a final score of 90-77.

Next Auburn played the Garrett Railroaders and lost the game 44-51; thus, the Red Devils were eliminated from the Sectional Tourney.

Holding hands is fine, but this is ridiculous! Doug Cochard shows his playing ability by recovering the ball.



"Big T" Habig fights his way toward the basket through Adams Central defenders to add to the team's advantage.



FRESHMEN AND IMPS' SEASON

Wayne Madden and Barry Lieter, captains of the Auburn and Avilla "B" teams, portray the cartoon characters of Mutt and Jeff quite effectively.

Coach Robert Voelkel's crew of Imps began their successful season of basketball by scoring a victory over Avilla, 42-36.

Their next encounters were equally satisfactory with the Auburn Imps gaining three more victories from their opponents, Columbia City, Huntertown, and Portland.

However, when the squad next met Butler, it faced its first defeat by a score of 36-32. This defeat was soon followed by successive losses to the forces of Garret, Churubusco, and Kendallville. The Imps experienced a comeback, however, and roared to victories over the Angola and Berne teams by scores of 40-36 and 42-32, respectively.

In the preliminary game with Decatur, the Imps were once again subdued by a 46-42 count; but travelling to Concordia the following week-end, the Imps once again took the winner's position by a score of 46-28.

The team managed victories over Bluffton and Adams Central, but Leo and New Haven overpowered the Imps during their next endeavors.

The season ended with wins over Albion and Ossian.

Cross country, one of the newer minor sports at Auburn High School, is an excellent conditioning sport because it develops endurance. It is distinctive from other sports in that the team with the lowest total score wins.

Competing against Fremont at the Auburn Country Club, Coach Robert Voelkel's harriers began their brief season. An opening loss was partially avenged by a tie later at Fremont. At Avilla and Ashley, Auburn's squad was subdued by more experienced teams.

During the short season, the team's spirit was always high, and each member gained valuable experience.

As in the past, the boys of A.H.S. filled their winter lunch hours with Noon League games.

During the season, the boys played basketball on three days of each week. At the end of a round of play, a tourney was held to determine the "champs" of the 1962-63 season. The co-captains of the champion team were Bob Myers and Duane Schlatter.

The next endeavor of the Noon League teams was to compose a team of "all-stars." This was done by banding together all senior members of the Noon League teams. After their brief organization, a challenge was sent forth for a game with members of the faculty. The challenge was accepted, and the game was held February 21 with the faculty members overpowering the forces of the "all-stars."

"The sky is falling!" Mr. Williams seems to say during a tense moment of the Faculty-All-Star game.

Maybe Bob Myers will give you a little boost, Glen. Glen Jeakle seems to need just a little something extra to block Mr. Notestine's shot.

GIRLS' NOON LEAGUE PROVIDES ENTERTAINMENT

Not to be surpassed by the boys, the girls also participated in the Noon League activities during the lunch periods.

Interested girls divided into teams and played basketball games two noons each week. The games proved to be both exciting and amusing to the spectators.

Not only did the games provide a pleasant activity for the girls, but they also taught the girls the value of good sportsmanship. The girls' Noon League games were supervised by Miss Marilyn Riggs.
